

Decimals and Fractions

Learning objectives

In this unit you will revise the key topics of decimals and fractions. After completing this unit you should

- understand the equivalence of decimals and fractions
- be able to convert between decimals and fractions
- be able to multiply and divide decimals in contexts
- understand why estimating answers is an important mathematical skill
- be able to use a calculator efficiently to make complex numerical calculations.